

Currency Envelopes

A solution for currency needs in any market;

durably designed to keep contents inside for money exchanges that need to be secured.

Where currency envelopes are a perfect fit:

Banking:

Currency envelopes can be used to deposit cash at a bank or financial institution. They are typically provided by the bank.

Donations:

Currency envelopes are also used for collecting donations for charities, non-profit organizations, or religious institutions.

Gift giving:

Currency envelopes can be used to give cash as a gift, especially for special occasions such as weddings or birthdays.

Storing cash:

Currency envelopes are often used to store cash for personal or business purposes. They can be used to organize cash, keep it safe, and make it easier to count and manage.
